

Information on reduced-price tickets for congress participants from Turkish-airlines

It has been requested that Turkish Airlines offer reduced-price tickets for participants travelling from abroad to the 5th Int. Vector Ecology Congress which will be held in Belek, Antalya, organized by Hacettepe University and SOVE.

For the purposes of the Congress, it is agreed that a 10 % reduction on fares not including IT and promotional fares, will be offered to participants travelling to Antalya from International points of departure served by THY. This doesn't include domestic flights on a codeshare basis.

Participants will be expected to present proof of participation provided by Hacettepe University (Invitation letters or online registration forms).

The price of reduction will be offered on condition that the reservation and issuing of the ticket is carried out by Turkish Airlines ticket offices (not agencies).
